

Easy art accents motivate kids to write and reward them for their work! In addition, they add color and charm to any child's story.

Here are motivating materials to have on hand regularly:

- Manila folders or a table cloth to protect tables
- A flat rectangular container to shake sand, salt and glitter in
- Markers, Acrylic paint, Watercolor Paint
- Glue dots, Glue sticks, Elmer's Glue
- Googly Eyes, Glitter, Sequins and Sand
- Plastic page protectors

Below are ideas students can use to decorate the border of their writing:

- |                     |                         |
|---------------------|-------------------------|
| Acrylic Paint       | Pipe Cleaners           |
| Bubble wrap-painted | Popcorn                 |
| Candy               | Pompoms                 |
| Cereal              | Sand                    |
| Chopsticks          | Seeds                   |
| Cotton              | Shells                  |
| Feathers            | Sequins                 |
| Foil                | Stickers                |
| Glitter             | Tissue paper            |
| Googly eyes         | Watercolor-salt         |
| Leaves              | White crayon—watercolor |
| Marker design       |                         |

This list is to just get you started. The ideas are endless! If you'd like to receive new ideas regularly, please subscribe to:

www.funwritingideas.com